

Regional Sales Representative – Mid-Continent Region

Sun Specialty Products (Sun) is a global sales organization specializing in manufacturing and supplying many proprietary and patented oilfield products, equipment and services worldwide. We provide engineered product solutions for many drilling, workover, and completion problems.

Sun is well known for our full line of high quality, proprietary specialty drilling fluid additives (DFA) designed to save operators significant time and expense while drilling in all types of challenging downhole environments. Our DFA products have a long history of solving problems associated with torque & drag, stuck pipe, wellbore stability, lubricity, fluid loss, bit balling and a host of other problems routinely encountered by operators.

Due to our exceptional growth, Sun is seeking an aggressive Regional Sales Representative for our Mid-Continent region. This position is based in Oklahoma, and covers office & field locations. The Regional Sales Representative will report directly to the Vice President of US Operations.

The Regional Sales Representative position is responsible for marketing and selling Sun's drilling, completion, and workover products and services in the designated territory and expanding Sun's market share through the development of new accounts and expanding business with existing clients.
